DRINKING WATER ADVISORY Loss of Pressure Boil Water Notice Lifted as of October 7, 2024

Location:

NW Hilton Drive & NW Morse Way

As of October 7, 2024, at 11:00 a.m. the Boil Water Advisory issued on October 2, 2024, is lifted. Tap water is safe to drink for all customers in the area.

Seal Rock Water District issued a “Boil Water Advisory” in response to a loss of pressure as a result of planned system maintenance waterline repair. Only customers in that area were affected by this advisory.

Follow-up testing of drinking water has shown the absence of bacterial contamination. Seal Rock Water District recommends flushing all taps for 2 minutes or until the water runs cold before consuming for the first time. This will flush any potentially contaminated water from the plumbing.

Testing conducted within the affected area since the notice was issued was clear of contamination. The Seal Rock Water District would like to thank our customers for their cooperation and understanding during the boil water advisory. While the contamination was likely minimal, the health and safety of our customers is the District’s first priority. Seal Rock Water District consulted closely with the Oregon Health Authority – Drinking Water Services to ensure that all state and federal health procedures were followed and standards were maintained.
